

COVID-19 and the Link with Changes in the Eyes

NIH... Turning Discovery Into Health®

Doctors at the National Institutes of Health (NIH) seek volunteers to participate in a research study examining for possible changes in the eyes that might have occurred as a result of COVID-19 infection. Researchers want to learn how many people experience these eyesight changes and where in the eye they occurred.

You can participate if you:

- Are 18 years old and older
- Have tested positive for COVID-19 infection and have recovered
- Do not currently have symptoms consistent with COVID-19 infection

About the study:

Participants will have one or more study visits.

During these visits you will have:

- A medical history and a physical exam
- An eye exam
- Pictures taken of the retina

NIH Clinical Center, America's Research Hospital, In Bethesda, Maryland.
Accessible on the Metro red line (Medical Center stop).

NIH Clinical Center Office of Patient Recruitment - 800-411-1222

800-877-8339 TTY/ASII

prpl@cc.nih.gov (refer to study 000078-EI)

<https://go.usa.gov/xsjdu>

National Eye Institute